

Pathological stereotype

Barking will occur repeatedly and without apparent reason. This behaviour may develop into a pathological stereotype barking. We recommend that you consult a veterinarian in order to physiologically control this behaviour. Only during medical treatment can the Aboistop device become an efficient help in interrupting this behavioural sequence without risk of reinforcement.